Office of the Governor

Dear Veterans, Service Members, and Supporters,

In January of 2014, I signed a proclamation making 2014 the "Year of the Veteran" in Nevada, and announced my goal of making Nevada the most military- and veteran-friendly state in the nation. In May of the same year I signed Executive Order 2014-13 requiring the Nevada Department of Veterans Services to develop and publish a Nevada Veteran Resource and Service Directory. This directory fulfills the requirements of that order, and more important, it fulfills the intent by increasing awareness, access, and coordination of existing services for veterans, service members, and their families.

This directory is a small part of our effort to say thank you to those who have served our nation, and to ensure that they have what they need when they return. It lists major services and organizations, and it also provides a roadmap to engage with Nevada's unique online coordination platform, the Green Zone Network. I am proud that Nevada is leading the way with this extraordinary capability, and I invite you to participate.

Thank you for your service, and for supporting those who have sacrificed for our nation. We owe them our gratitude and support.

Sincerely regards,

BRIAN SANDOVAL
GOVERNOR

The monthly award recognizes Nevadans who served in the military, and who continue to contribute their time and energy to support their fellow veterans. Winners have ranged from the highest levels of the Veteran Service Organizations, to veterans who volunteer their time independently.

The Veteran of the Month award is managed by the Nevada Department of Veterans Services, which is always seeking nominations of possible awardees. Nominations are reviewed and chosen by the members of the Veterans Service Commission during their quarterly meetings. More information can be found on the Nevada Department of Veterans Services Website.

November 26, 2014

Dear Nevada Veterans, Service Members, and Supporters,

The men and women of the Nevada Department of Veterans Services are committed to assisting those who have served, or are serving our nation, in accessing the benefits and opportunities they have earned. We are only one small part of the solution, however. There are many, many outstanding organizations and agencies working to ensure that troops returning home can successfully transition back to civilian life.

As a part of Governor Sandoval's 2014 "Year of the Veteran" Initiative, this inaugural State of Nevada Veterans Resource Directory identifies many of the great organizations working to improve the lives of Nevada veterans. I hope you find this a helpful tool and would be grateful for your recommendations for future editions. The information in this directory will be incorporated into the Green Zone Network, Nevada's online platform for connecting Veterans, Service Members, their families and caregivers with those who support them. You can find the Green Zone Network at www.greenzonenetwork.org.

If you need information regarding veterans services and programs not covered in this directory, please do not hesitate to contact my office for assistance.

Serving America's Heroes.

Chapter 2

The Green Zone Initiative

Purpose of the Green Zone

The American public today is extraordinarily interested in serving those who have served our nation in uniform. Service members, veterans, and their families have more services, resources, benefits, and opportunities available to them during deployments, during transition, and after than at any other time in our nation's history. This respect and concern for our veterans is so pronounced that the Department of Defense has taken to calling it the "Sea of Goodwill."

At its best, the "Sea of Goodwill" is a powerful force for helping veterans who need assistance during or after transition. At its worst, it is a complicated, uncoordinated, and at times, overwhelming collection of resources and services too daunting to be effective in the lives of those who could benefit from its resources. In Nevada, we have worked for the last two years to make all of the "Sea of Goodwill" relevant to those who it aims to serve, and more important, to ensure that every service directed at Nevada's veterans is accessible.

We have done this primarily under what we call the Green Zone Initiative (GZI), which is Nevada's effort to marshal all available resources under the three focus areas of employment, education, and wellness for Nevada's service members, veterans, and their families. The GZI initiated a statewide strategic planning effort and architecture designed to improve services, increase collaboration and reduce duplication among service providers, provide onramps for policy solutions at the most local level, and to provide mechanisms to feed those solutions up to local and state bodies, including the Nevada State Legislature. It works through a statewide architecture to build strong networks and partnerships with private philanthropy and corporate business partners that work to bring in private resources to support our public efforts and advance systems change at all levels.

*Lee Barnes
Las Vegas
CSN Professor*

Although the GZI architecture consists of numerous important pieces, including the Interagency Council on Veterans Affairs and specific programs for each of the three focus areas, the most important element of the Green Zone is arguably the Green Zone Network (GZN). The GZN is the State of Nevada's social networking platform for service members, veterans, family members, service providers, and interested members of the statewide community. It is intended to provide access to the many services provided in our state, to coordinate those services, and to identify existing and future needs by encouraging and allowing for interaction at various levels throughout the state.

By creating a profile on this platform, service providers anywhere can coordinate their services, maximize the use of their resources by filling gaps and reducing duplication in services, and see what other organizations exist that might be interested in partnering for specific efforts. Similarly, veterans from different backgrounds can create profiles in order to communicate their thoughts, ask important questions, find resources, share personal experiences, develop affinity communities, and more. Perhaps most important, through this platform, the gap between the service providers and organizations and the veterans who need their services, benefits, or opportunities can be bridged in a direct and personal way.

Connecting on the Green Zone Network

Like the GZI, the GZN is focused on three primary areas—education, employment, and wellness. By creating a profile, or simply searching the site as a non-member, veterans, service providers, and community members can:

- Post or find messages on community bulletin boards
- Post or find services offered in different areas of the state
- Post or find upcoming veteran and military-related events throughout the state
- Start or participate in conversations with veterans, service providers and others

The GZN is such an important part of the architecture because of the ways that it meets the overall mission of the GZI and facilitates the missions of the various sub-initiatives of the effort. This can be seen in numerous ways, for example:

- Employers who have chosen to become certified veteran-friendly employers through the Green Zone Employer program can create a profile on the GZN in order to list job opportunities for veterans under the “employment” tag.
- Local service providers can engage with their local communities to advertise their activities, seek input, and more.
- The Interagency Council on Veterans Affairs can engage with the statewide community to advertise their activities, seek input to develop policy changes, and more.
- Service organizations wishing to connect with veterans can announce scholarship opportunities, meeting times and locations, and other events.

Because this system is Internet based, it is dynamic, highly versatile, and accessible from anywhere that there is an Internet connection. It can facilitate collaboration between all of the groups identified above and more, while making itself available for service members stationed abroad who are coming home or considering making Nevada their home. The potential to increase collaboration through this site is almost limitless, and it is our hope that everyone within the veteran community will see the Green Zone Network as a one-stop-shop for all services, resources, benefits, and opportunities that are needed for the success of Nevada's veterans.

Are you a veteran, a service provider, or a member of the community interested in serving our veterans? If the answer is yes, then we highly encourage you to join this network. Go to www.GreenZoneNetwork.org and build a profile. Then take a moment to see what other opportunities are out there, what other opportunities might be needed, and what partnerships might exist to help serve those who have served our nation. In doing so, you will help make the “Sea of Goodwill” all it can be to those who need it most.

Nevada 2-1-1 and National Crisis Numbers

Nevada 2-1-1 is Nevada's most comprehensive, free connection to critical health and human services, and veterans and their families are encouraged to call 211 for any health and human needs. Information about local community services is available in a single statewide location that can be accessed via voice, text, and online.

Nevada 2-1-1 is a statewide partnership that is led by the State of Nevada, United Way of Southern Nevada, United Way of Northern Nevada and the Sierra, Crisis Call Center, and HELP of Southern Nevada. Nevada 211 was launched in February 2006, with the goal of connecting any and all Nevadans to the vital health and human resources and to eliminate the confusion and frustration of knowing where to turn in a time of need.

Chapter 4

Education

The United States Government passed legislation in 1944 to assist veterans with their education after returning from active duty service. The Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, which is commonly known as the GI Bill of Rights, began with a $20 a week stipend to help unemployed veterans pay for college and university courses. In the decades since President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the original GI Bill on June 22, 1944, the U.S. Government has expanded upon the original act to enhance veteran educational benefits. In 2008, the GI Bill was updated to give veterans with active duty service on or after 9/11 enhanced educational benefits to cover more educational expenses, provide a living allowance, money for books, and the ability to transfer unused educational benefits to spouses or children. Some of the more common GI Bill related program information and eligibility requirements are discussed in this directory with special attention to education opportunities in Nevada.

Federal Education Programs

Montgomery G.I. Bill

The Montgomery GI Bill is available to those who enlist in the U.S. Armed Forces, and the benefits are offered through two main programs: Montgomery GI Bill Active Duty (MGIB-AD) is for active duty members who enroll and pay $100 monthly for 12 months, which entitles them to receive a monthly education benefit once they complete a minimum service obligation; Montgomery GI Bill Selected Reserve (MGIB-SR) is specifically for reservist members who complete a six-year obligation in the Selected Reserve and are actively drilling. For more information about the Montgomery GI Bill, visit:

http://www.benefits.va.gov/gibill/montgomery\_bill.asp.

Post 9/11 G.I. Bill

The Post 9/11 GI Bill may be available for those who have at least 90 aggregated days of active duty service after September 10, 2001, and still on active duty, or who were honorably discharged or discharged for a service-connected disability after 30 days. For additional information about the Post 9/11 GI Bill including benefits, eligibility requirements, as well as specific types of approved training programs, visit: http://www.benefits.va.gov/gibill/post911\_gibill.asp.

Reserve Educational Assistance Program (REAP)

The REAP program provides educational assistance to members of the Reserve components who were called or ordered to active duty during times of war or national emergency declared by the President or Congress. For more information about eligibility requirements, descriptions of benefits, types of assistance, and other program-related information, please visit:

<http://www.benefits.va.gov/gibill/reap.asp>.

Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (VOC Rehab): Chapter 31

The Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment program is designed to help veterans prepare for a career as a civilian. The program includes an array of services such as comprehensive skill and interest evaluation; vocational counseling and planning; employment assistance; job retention; on-the-job training and apprenticeship programs; technical, vocational, or other related training at colleges, universities, and other institutions of higher education, and many more. ## Survivors and Dependents Assistance: Chapter 35

The VA offers two main GI Bill programs that provide educational assistance to survivors and dependents of veterans: The Marine Gunnery Sergeant John David Fry Scholarship (Fry Scholarship) currently serves children of military members who died in the line of duty after September 10, 2001. Beginning January 1, 2015, Fry Scholarships will also be available for surviving spouses of military members who died in the line of duty after September 10, 2001. The Survivors' and Dependents' Educational Assistance (DEA) Program offers a series of education and training opportunities to eligible dependents of veterans who died while on active duty or as a result of a service-related condition or of veterans who are totally and permanently disabled due to service-related condition. For more information about eligibility requirements or benefits information, please visit:

http://www.benefits.va.gov/gibill/survivor\_dependent\_assistance.asp.

Veterans Educational Assistance Program (VEAP)

VEAP provides education and training opportunities to eligible veterans who made contributions from their military pay while on active duty. The government matches the contributions to help veterans pay for the program. For more information about the specific types of training, available benefits, eligibility requirements, and other factors to consider, or to request additional information or apply, please visit: <http://www.benefits.va.gov/gibill/veap.asp>.

Chapter 5

Employment

Veterans face many challenges when returning to civilian life after active duty service, including employment. Active duty service members and veterans have a wealth of unique, transferable skillsets, abilities, work experience, and capabilities; however, these traits do not always translate into civilian employment. Unfortunately, veterans who sacrificed so much for our country are left not only without a career, but also out of a job after leaving active duty service. The State of Nevada has joined the U.S. Government and numerous community groups and non-profits to offer training and resources to help veterans find employment as they transition to civilian life.

Federal Employment Resources

U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs supports veterans' transition from active duty service through a variety of employment related programs. For more information about veterans benefits related to employment, training, and vocational rehabilitation, please visit <http://www.benefits.va.gov/benefits/>. Some of the included topic areas and information provided by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs are listed below:

Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment

The Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment provides “vocational rehabilitation and employment services to help with job training, employment accommodations, resume development, and job seeking skills coaching.” Additionally, on the Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment website, <http://www.benefits.va.gov/vocrehab/index.asp>, there is information under “For Employers” that encourages the hiring of veterans. Vocational Rehabilitation Counselors and Employment Coordinators work with veterans during their transition to provide information about Reemployment; Rapid Access to Employment; Self-employment; Employment through Long-Term Services, which includes On-the-Job Training and Apprenticeship Programs; and Independent Living. Additional resources and materials available to assist veterans, including employers who participate in the Non-Paid Work Experience program and contracts available to veterans thorough VocRehab, can be found online at http://www.benefits.va.gov/vocrehab/links\_resources.asp.

Transitioning to Civilian Employment

The VA along with the Department of Defense and Department of Labor offer a joint program called Transition Assistance Program (TAP), which encourages veterans to explore career options. The Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment section of the VA is an integral contributor to this transitional program. Vocational Rehabilitation Counselors are available by appointment at (800) 827-1000 to assist veterans as they participate in TAPs and transition to civilian life. More information about the Transition Assistance Program, in addition to the role of the VA and Vocational Rehabilitation program, is available online at http://www.benefits.va.gov/vocrehab/transitioning\_from\_service.asp.

Veteran Employment Resources

The VA offers a series of tips and resources related to employment, job seeking, interviewing, resume writing, and other job related topics on their Veteran Employment Resources national website, http://www.benefits.va.gov/vocrehab/jobs\_for\_veterans.asp.

VetSuccess on Campus

The VA is dedicated to improving the transition from active duty to college life as part of the VetSuccess on Campus program. “The VetSuccess on Campus (VSOC) program aims to help Veterans, Servicemembers, and their qualified dependents succeed and thrive through a coordinated delivery of on-campus benefits assistance and counseling, leading to completion of their education and preparing them to enter the labor market in viable careers.” The University of Nevada, Las Vegas is one of a long list of participating universities nationwide that participate in the VetSuccess project. For more information about VetSuccess on Campus, please visit <http://www.benefits.va.gov/vocrehab/vsoc.asp>.

Veterans Opportunity to Work

The Veterans Opportunity to Work (VOW) program offers training and career assistance to prepare veterans for their next mission – life as a veteran. VOW serves veterans both directly and indirectly with the resources offered such as transitional assistance, extended assistance for unemployed veterans, retraining programs for veterans starting a second career, in addition to hiring resources for employers interested in hiring a veteran. For more information about programs offered by VOW, please visit <http://www.benefits.va.gov/vow/>.

Veterans Employment Center – eBenefits & The Veterans Job Bank

The Department of Veteran Affairs and the Department of Defense create and maintain an online Veterans Employment Center at the eBenefits website <https://www.ebenefits.va.gov/ebenefits/jobs>. This website provides veteran job seekers an opportunity to search a nationwide Veterans Job Bank. Additional search options are also available as part of the National Resource Directory, which can be found at <https://www.ebenefits.va.gov/ebenefits/nrd>.

U.S. Department of Labor

The U.S. Department of Labor is dedicated to serving the welfare of Americans with services related to employment policy and regulation. The U.S. Department of Labor’s mission is “to foster, promote, and develop the welfare of the wage earners, job seekers, and retirees of the United States; improve working conditions; advance opportunities for profitable employment; and assure work-related benefits and rights.” Additionally, the U.S. Department of Labor provides specific resources for veterans who have specific skills, capabilities, and experience as they transition out of active duty service. As the population of veterans grows nationwide, the Department of Labor is expanding their service with Veterans’ Employment and Training Services (VETS) and 11 specific programs and services. To serve Americans across the country, Department of Labor offices are located in specific cities, including two in Nevada.

Veterans' Employment and Training Services (VETS)

The U.S. Department of Labor created a specific service component for veterans, known as Veterans' Employment and Training Services (VETS). "VETS serves America's veterans and separating service members by preparing them for meaningful careers, providing employment resources and expertise, and protecting their employment rights." Specific programs and services offered by the Department of Labor and the Veterans' Employment and Training Service are detailed individually in this chapter. For more information about VETS or to contact a representative at the Department of Labor, please visit <http://www.dol.gov/vets/>.

Priority of Service at American Job Centers

The Department of Labor has designed programs and services so that veterans receive priority service for all federally funded employment and training programs at the approximately 2,500 American Job Centers nationwide. These programs and services help veterans update their resume, find careers that match their experience and interest, as well as provide interviewing and networking tips. "Disabled and other eligible veterans also receive intensive services from specialists, with the maximum emphasis directed toward serving those who are economically or educationally disadvantaged, including homeless veterans and veterans with barriers to employment." Additional information about these programs and services can be found online at <http://jobcenter.usa.gov>.

Hiring Fairs

Recently, First Lady Michelle Obama and Dr. Jill Biden partnered their Joining Forces Initiative, <http://www.whitehouse.gov/joiningforces>, with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's Hiring our Heroes program to better serve veterans and their families. This partnership provides "veterans across the United States with opportunities to connect with employers who are pledging to hire veterans." Aligned with other veteran support agencies and programs, regularly scheduled hiring fairs are held around the nation to introduce veterans and employers. Additional information and hiring fair schedules can be found online at <http://www.uschamberfoundation.org/hiring-our-heroes>.

Protect Civilian Job Rights and Benefits for Veterans

The Department of Labor protects civilian job rights and benefits for veterans and other members of the military, including active and Reserve components as part of the requirements of the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act. The Act offers job protection to service members and veterans and "provides that returning service-members must be promptly reemployed in the same position that they would have attained had they not been absent for military service, with the same seniority, status and pay, as well as other rights and benefits determined by seniority." For more information about the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act, please visit <http://www.dol.gov/vets/programs/userra/>.

Transition Assistance Program

The Department of Labor developed the Transition Assistance Program as part of the Veterans Opportunity to Work and Hire Heroes Act of 2011, which requires service members, who are separating from active duty, to attend a three-day intensive employment workshop, which is offered at military installations around the world to help prepare veterans and their families for their transition to civilian life.

Gold Card

The Veteran Gold Card from the Department of Labor is designed to assist unemployed post-9/11 veterans with job services and market resources in a consistent and intensive format. The Gold Card is accepted at American Job Centers nationwide and provides enhanced in-person services to veterans that may include:

- "Job readiness assessment, including interviews and testing"
- "Development of an Individual Development Plan (IDP)"
- "Career guidance through group or individual counseling that helps veterans in making training and career decisions"

- “Provision of labor market, occupational, and skills transferability information that inform educational, training, and occupational decisions”
- “Referral to job banks, job portals, and job openings”
- “Referral to employers and registered apprenticeship sponsors”
- “Referral to training by WIA-funded or third party service providers”
- “Monthly follow-up by an assigned case manager for up to six months”

My Next Move

The Department of Labor has developed an interactive career assessment tool, My Next Move for Veterans, <http://www.mynextmove.org/vets/>. Veterans can find career resources by industry, employment types, and compare civilian careers to their active duty experience. “The site has tasks, skills, salary information, job listings, and more for over 900 different careers.” Additionally, My Next Move for Veterans includes the O*NET Interest Profiler, which provides personalized career recommendations based on previous work experience and current interests.

Getting Homeless Veterans Back on Their Feet

As part of the Veterans’ Employment and Training Services (VETS) programs and services, the Department of Labor has developed, implemented, and funded a Homeless Veteran Reintegration Program (HVRP), <http://www.dol.gov/vets/grants/hvrp.htm>. This program is designed to connect veterans with training and resources to help them succeed in civilian careers. Recently reported data from the HVRP indicates that over 12,000 veterans nationwide have benefited from these programs and services.

Apprenticeships

Apprenticeship programs have increased nationwide as President Barack Obama called for doubling the number of available apprenticeships in a five-year time period. Veterans have unique skills and work experience that typically prepare them for successful completion of Apprenticeship programs. The Department of Labor has increased veteran access to these programs through Registered Apprenticeships that allow veterans to use GI Bill benefits to receive monthly stipends during apprenticeships.

Preparing Women Veterans to Succeed

Women have been serving the U.S. Military since the beginning of our nation, and the Department of Labor is committed to preparing women veterans to succeed after active duty. Women veteran issues related to employment and homelessness led to the creation of the Women Veterans Initiative. This initiative has dedicated its mission to “determine the distinct challenges for women veteran employment, identify the department services needed to close the gap and elevate women veterans’ issues among stakeholders and the public.” The Women Veterans Initiative works in concert with the Veterans’ Employment and Training Service, <http://www.dol.gov/vets/>, and the Women’s Bureau, <http://www.dol.gov/wb/>, to accomplish their goal to prepare women veterans for success.

Employer Outreach

The American Job Centers, which are highlighted in this chapter of the Veterans Resource Directory, provide veteran specific resources to employers. With approximately 2,500 American Job Centers nationwide that connect employers and job seekers in their communities in addition to veteran programs available online at <http://jobcenter.usa.gov/>, the American Job Centers help Americans find jobs and American business hire skilled employees.

Labor Market Statistics

The Bureau of Labor Statistics provides reports on labor and market trends across the nation, which can be accessed at <http://www.bls.gov/>. These reports are utilized by various agencies and organizations to determine funding needs, employment trends, and demographic summaries. The Bureau of Labor Statistics includes specific information, data, and trends related to veteran employment in an annual report to increase understanding of the veteran workforce. This information can be utilized to increase training programs, develop veteran specific resources, and improve the nation’s service to our veterans.

U.S. Office of Personnel Management

The U.S. Office of Personnel Management provides federal job opportunity and application support resources for veterans and their families. The U.S. Office of Personnel Management maintains two main sources where veterans can find information about available federal jobs.

American Job Center - Nevada

The American Job Center was created to offer Americans in search of work a one-stop, single access point to search for jobs, job training programs, employment resources. The American Job Center also serves as a launching point for other employment resources websites, many of which are partners with the American Job Center in a national network. One such partner is the CareerOneStop website, which is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Labor. This website offers a variety of employment-related information including the America's Service Locator service, an employment search engine that searches the Internet for local job centers and job training resources and provides a single list. In addition, Nevada has developed employment resources that partner with the American Job Center. The One Stop

Career Center is a local workforce development agency designed as a consortium to provide career training, job search, career services, employment case management, and career counseling in one location.

Chapter 6

Health and Wellness

Veterans and their families face unique service-related challenges as they transition successfully from military to civilian life, many of which have an impact on both the health and wellness of veterans as well as their families and communities. The State of Nevada, the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, national non-profit organizations, as well as community organizations and agencies across our state and country, work to provide resources for veterans to help address these challenges. This Veterans Resource Directory is divided into three subject areas – Health, Mental Health, and Recreation – to provide resources and contact information related to each.

Health

Veterans and their families encounter health conditions, issues, and problems that require specialized care. As veterans return to their families and reintegrate into their civilian lives after active duty service, the State of Nevada, United States Government, national non-profits, Veterans Service Organizations, and many other community-based agencies and organizations provide health-related services for our veterans as well as their families.

Veterans Health Administration

The Veterans Health Administration, part of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, is the largest system of integrated health care in the United States with 150 medical centers, nearly 1,400 community-based outpatient clinics, community living centers, and Vet Centers. The Veterans Health Administration is committed to providing veterans with comprehensive care. With a staff of more than 53,000 licensed health care practitioners, the Veterans Health Administration provides medical services, treatment, care, and support for more than 8.3 million veterans each year. For more information about the Veterans Health Administration, please visit <http://www.va.gov/health/>.

About VA Mental Health

One of the resources provided by the VA Mental Health program is the Guide to VA Mental Health Services for Veterans and Families, which is available on the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs' website at <http://www.mentalhealth.va.gov/VAMentalHealthGroup.asp>. The guide provides information on the mental health services available through local or regional VA health care facilities. Below are the basic guiding principles that form the foundation of VA mental health care:

- Focus on Recovery: By focusing on recovery, veterans are empowered to take charge of their treatment and redefine their life to find new meaning. This approach focuses on strengths, while promoting individual respect, honor, and hope.
- Coordinated Care for the Whole Person: Coordinated care amongst VA health care providers promotes effective treatment and holistic care for veterans in every aspect of their lives, from health and fitness to mental health and family support.
- Mental Health Treatment in Primary Care: Patient Aligned Care Teams (PACTs), a medical team that includes mental health experts, provide veteran's health care at Primary Care clinics.
- Mental Health Treatment Coordinator: Veterans receiving specialty mental health care work directly with a Mental Health Treatment Coordinator (MHTC) for more individualized care and support.

- Around-the-Clock Service: Emergency mental health care and services are available 24/7 at VA medical centers. If a local VA does not have a 24-hour emergency room, it must have an agreement with a local, non-VA hospital, to provide these services. VA medical centers also provide telephone evaluations, and the national crisis hotline is available 24/7.
- Care that is Sensitive to Gender & Cultural Issues: VA health care providers receive training about military culture, gender differences, and a variety of ethnic issues to better understand and serve our veterans.
- Care Close to Home: The VA is committed to expanding resource locations to veterans by adding more clinics in rural communities, increasing the usage of mobile clinics, and partnering with local health care providers to better serve veterans and their families.
- Evidence-Based Treatment: The VA is committed to providing treatments that have been proven to be effective for particular problems. Mental health providers and practitioners working with our veterans have received training in evidence-based treatments and are required to offer these types of services and treatment options to veterans.
- Family & Couple Services: Family members of veterans play an integral role in the treatment and care of veterans. The VA offers services and care for family members that include but are not limited to family therapy, marriage counseling, and grief counseling.

Vet Center Program

Vet Centers can be found across the country, including Nevada, and offer a broad range of counseling, outreach, and referral services to eligible veterans as they transition into civilian life after active duty. Navigating the housing market after years of military service, veterans face unique challenges and issues in the real estate market. There are number of resources available to assist veterans and their families as they search for a home. Additionally, the Federal government offers veteran specific loan programs to better assist our service members after they transition back to civilian life. Some of the resources discussed include information for emergency and transitional housing as well as home ownership programs.

Legal Services

The State of Nevada has a variety of Legal Services available for Nevada veterans to assist with life events and circumstances that require legal support, review, or guidance. Veterans seeking legal advice should contact a Veterans Advocate Service Officer, a professional veteran advocate, to obtain information about required documentation. The toll-free number to reach a Veterans Advocate Service Officer is 1-800-562-2308. Legal services often require proof of military service, which can be done online at <http://vetrecs.archives.gov>. ## Chapter 11

Staying Connected

We hope that you found this services and resources directory helpful. It is Nevada Department of Veterans Services' initial attempt to identify many of the services, resources, benefits, and opportunities that are available for its service members, veterans, and family members. This directory will grow and change, and we welcome any feedback on how it can be improved.

We also hope that you will consider starting a profile as a service provider, veteran, or community member on the Green Zone Network. This online social networking platform provides the dynamic, ongoing resource directory for all Nevadans, and it will help us identify what resources will be necessary going forward. You can update your information online, and ensure we have the most accurate contact information for your organization represented on the Green Zone Network. The more members of the statewide community who participate, the better it will be.

Finally, whether you are a service member, a veteran, a family member, or a service provider, we thank you for your service. We value what you do for our nation, for our state, and for our communities. We hope that this directory expresses our gratitude.

Office of the Governor

Dear community partner,

Nevada's Veteran Resource and Service Directory is a significant step toward increasing service provider coordination, increasing access, and improving service delivery for Nevada's veterans, service members, and their families. This is only a first attempt, and one that will grow and improve in time, but for now it provides a firm foundation to build on. We look forward to working with partners like you to ensure that it meets the needs of veterans, family members, and service providers throughout Nevada.

This directory comes from several initiatives aimed at meeting the goal of improving outcomes for Nevada's military and veteran populations. It was created by Governor Sandoval through an Executive Order signed in support of the "Year of the Veteran" in Nevada, and it captures much of the work done under the Green Zone initiative. We hope that you will consider joining the Green Zone Network as a way to better serve Nevada's veterans throughout the state as well.

Thank you for what you do for our nation and our state. We appreciate your service and we look forward to working with you. We look forward to your feedback and recommendations for improvement as well.

Sincerely,

Caleb S. Cage
Director of Military and Veterans Policy
Office of the Governor
